Ripken Way Clinic – The Ripken Way Clinic is a wonderful way for players to take instruction in every aspect of the game of baseball. This format gives participants the best well-rounded experience in all fielding positions as well as train in a detailed offensive regimen. It's ideal for players seeking more overall instruction in the areas of pitching, infield, outfield, and hitting.

Specialty Training Clinic – The Specialty Training Clinic offers position specific instruction for players. Participants will learn more detailed and technical aspects of baseball while enhancing their overall knowledge for the game. Each camper will be allowed to pick a primary and secondary position in which they will solely focus their attention throughout the duration of the program. They can choose from the following positions: Catcher, Pitcher, Middle Infield, Corner Infield, and Outfield. A full hitting circuit can be added to full day camps only.

Hitting Clinic – This style of program strictly focuses on theory and drills pertaining to the offensive side of the game. Each participant will go through the fundamentals of hitting, but will also receive specialty instruction in bunting, base running, and in-game situational hitting. Hitting clinics are offered in ½ day camp sessions.

Coaching Clinics – Attention Coaches! Join Ripken Baseball for an informative and unforgettable Coaching Clinic experience. Cal and Bill believe that one of the most important ways to have the greatest impact is to share their knowledge with baseball coaches. This informative session covers pitching, hitting, defense, and practice preparation. Clinics generally last between 2½ - 3½ hours complete with a Q&A session and can feature Bill Ripken, John Habyan, members from the MLB Alumni Association & Certified Ripken Baseball Instructors. Instructional manuals and CD ROMS can be provided upon request.
